Mie, a 28-year-old singer-songwriter and producer from Milwaukee, captivates with her poignant originals and heartfelt storytelling. Known offstage as Maggie but performing as Mie, her music journey began at age seven. Influenced by songwriters like Jewel, Adele, and Alicia Keys, her style spans electropop, blues, folk, and Americana.

Her debut EP, "Alchemie," released in 2021, features tracks inspired by Billie Eilish and Jessie Ware, transforming life's challenges into "beautiful liquid gold." It garnered international attention, amassing thousands of streams worldwide.

Recent milestones include performing at Summerfest 2023, a southern tour with Cullah, and opening for Ben Mulwana at The Coffee House. Last summer, Mie formed Venus Sugar High with Timothy Rose, with a project set for 2024. Fans can also anticipate her pop rock single "Freakshow" in October, promising a bold addition to her discography.
